❖ FINANCIAL CALCULATIONS

1. POST TAX RETURN - We invest thinking about probable returns that can be generated. But we forget that these returns will be much lower if we take into account taxes too.

$$\text{Formula} = \text{Interest rate} - (\text{Interest rate} * \text{tax rate})$$

2. INFLATION - Inflation lowers purchasing power. As a result, whenever a saving plan is being chalked out, inflation is one of the factors that has to be taken into account.

$$\text{Formula: Future amount} = \text{Present amount} * (1 + \text{inflation rate})^{\text{number of years}}$$

3. PURCHASING POWER

$$\text{Formula: Future Value} = \text{Present value} / (1 + \text{inflation rate})^{\text{number of years}}$$

4. EFFECTIVE ANNUAL RATE - Generally, an investment's annual rate of return is different from the nominal rate of return when compounding occurs more than once a year (quarterly, half-yearly).

$$\text{Formula: Effective Annual Rate} = (1 + (r/n))^n - 1 * 100$$

Where

r = nominal return divided by number of times compounding is done in a year

n = number of times compounding is done in a year

5. RULE OF 72 – Rule of 72 refers to the time value of money. It helps you know the time (in terms of years) required to double your money at a given interest rate. Also known as the 'doubling of money' principle.

Formula: Divide 72 by the interest rate

6. Future Value of SIP – calculate possible savings

Formula: $S = R \left(\frac{(1+i)^n - 1}{i} \right) (1+i)$

Where

S = Future value of investment

R = Regular monthly investment

i = Interest rate assumed /12

n = Duration (number of months or number of years *12)

7. LIQUIDITY RATIO – indicates the overall health of finances

Formula: $\text{Liquidity Ratio} = \frac{\text{Total liquid assets}}{\text{Total current debt}}$
